Ocean Marine: Hull & Liability

Marine operations face unique challenges as global supply chains and economic trends continue to increase in complexity. Our Ocean Marine Hull & Liability team offers a focused portfolio of marine insurance solutions to support a wide range of vessel owners, operators and marine businesses, helping protect what matters most.

Backed by more than a century of marine underwriting experience, CNA delivers deep expertise and a consistent, personalized approach to meet our policyholders' evolving needs.

Coverages

Our comprehensive marine insurance coverages can be tailored with collateral lines, allowing for flexible, customized solutions to marine exposures. Key coverage offerings include:

- Marine General Liability (MGL) – A core liability coverage designed to protect marine businesses from a broad range of third-party claims and costly legal exposures on or near the water.
- Commercial Hull – Coverage for a variety of commercial vessels (marine contractors equipment such as bridge, dock and pier projects; passenger vessels and dinner boats; research vessels; municipal vessels; workboats and dredges).
- Protection & Indemnity (P&I) – Essential liability protection for vessel operations, including vessel indemnity and crew coverage (Maritime Employers Liability, or MEL), vessel liabilities to passengers, third parties, and liabilities from collision with another vessel or object.
- Hull Builders Risk – Coverage for vessels under construction from start to completion, from recreational boats to commercial tugs, barges and workboats.
- Monoline Marine Liabilities – Industry-specific liability solutions, such as ship repairers liability, marine terminal liabilities (stevedores, wharfingers, terminal operators), boat builders liability and ship chandlers.
- Excess Marine Liabilities – First-layer excess coverage to complement the primary marine policies we write. Options include:
  - Bumbershoot – Excess Marine Liability form similar to Commercial Umbrella.
  - Following Form Excess – Excess coverage limits over a scheduled underlying liability coverage.
- Additional Coverages (in support of primary marine accounts) – Underwriting-specific extensions like contractors equipment, auto, property and other related coverages.

Collaborative Approach

Our dedicated Underwriting team, Risk Control specialists and Marine Claims professionals collaborate closely with brokers, agents and policyholders to address and help mitigate exposures at every stage, while preparing for emerging trends.
