SMALL BUSINESS

Data Breach for Small Business

Do your clients store data, including private information, on computers or paper files? Do your clients use e-mail? Do your clients generate revenue online? If you answered yes to any of these questions, then your clients are at risk for a cyber attack.

Data Breach provides critical coverage for any business that collects private information, such as Social Security numbers, Healthcare Payer ID numbers or credit / debit card numbers. Simple tasks, such as sending an infected e-mail that results in a loss of a third party's private information can result in a liability. Data Breach provides coverage for third party claims relating to privacy injury and identity theft.
