Coverages that life sciences firms need most.

CNA Paramount® provides life sciences organizations with a range of essential coverages. Coverage highlights for eligible and qualified insureds include:

Research animals
The use of live animals in testing is common among some medical technology companies. While some carriers have a live animal exclusion, CNA Paramount® provides coverage if these animals are lost or destroyed as a result of a covered peril.

Technology service provider coverage
If service is interrupted because an internet service provider (ISP) or server farm goes offline due to loss or damage to its property, CNA Paramount® provides coverage for business income loss sustained during the period of restoration due to delay of its operations as a result of the outage.*

Bio-contamination
The risk of biological agents being accidentally released into the environment by medical technology companies is an ongoing concern. CNA Paramount® provides coverage for direct physical loss of or damage to covered property caused by the sudden and accidental discharge or release of bio-contaminants — up to the Bio-Contamination Coverage each occurrence limit of insurance.

Decontamination expense
If there is a covered peril that results in the cleanup, removal or decontamination of covered property, CNA Paramount® will pay the costs to restore.

Fire safety — infrared thermography, impairment program
An infrared thermography scan can pinpoint electrical faults that can lead to a fire or a system failure, as well as identify potential equipment problems. This service is available to selected customers. To help ensure that fire protection systems remain functioning and in service, CNA also offers policyholders access to its toll-free impairment reporting service. Firms can report an impairment, ask for advice on how to restore fire protection service and receive suggestions for mitigating fire exposures while protection is out of service.

Business interruption
To reduce the potential for substantial financial loss, CNA provides business solutions and loss prevention strategies to help prepare life sciences firms for emergency situations. CNA’s staff can assist firms with a review of their business continuity plan to ensure the firm is operational as soon as possible following a disaster.

Equipment breakdown services
We can help life sciences firms cover patients, residents and physical assets, and improve productivity by assisting in identification of potential hazards and jurisdictional requirements that could lead to future business interruptions.
